

Course bibliography

The most important part of the course is your weekly advance preparation in the form of readings and assignments. The preparatory readings are coherent thematic 'packages', if you like, that are based on excerpts from original texts by professional linguists. The following list (called a 'bibliography') provides a systematic overview of those original sources.

Reference grammars of English

Large parts of our course are thoroughly informed by the two authoritative reference grammars of English. Their comprehensive versions, which should become standard reference works during your studies, are listed here:

- Huddleston, Rodney and Geoffrey K. Pullum (2002). The Cambridge Grammar of the English Language. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.
Quirk, Randolph, Sidney Greenbaum, Geoffrey Leech and Jan Svartvik (1985). A Comprehensive Grammar of the English Language. London: Longman.

Both works are also available in a much more reduced form (both content- and price-wise) and can thus be used as textbooks:

- Huddleston, Rodney and Geoffrey K. Pullum (2005). A Student's Introduction to English Grammar. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.
Greenbaum, Sidney and Randolph Quirk (1990). A Student's Grammar of the English Language. London: Longman.
