

Introduction to Linguistics (I)

Type of course: BA.AA.SW01 (first part of Basismodul Linguistics)
Time: Monday 12–2 p.m. (12:15–13:45)
Venue: Carl-Zeiss-Str. 3, SR 222
Workload: 5 ECTS

Course description

This course introduces first-year students to the discipline of modern linguistics ('Sprachwissenschaft'), and specifically sets out to discover some foundational principles that underlie the structural organisation of the English language. We will take a closer look at the 'building blocks' of language, at the internal structure of words and larger units (phrases, clauses, sentences) and at the ways in which grammatical forms serve specific communicative functions. At the end of the course, students will have developed an understanding of the role that grammar plays in language and will have acquired some methodological tools for describing and representing the structure of English words and sentences.

Requirements and marking system

Active class participation

Thorough preparation of each session (obligatory reading and a short homework assignment each week)

Final exam

The final mark of this part of the module will be based on the exam. In order to be able to enrol for the exam, however, you have to submit and pass at least three of your homework assignments during the semester. If you fail to do so, you cannot take part in the final exam, which results in failing the course!

Preparatory texts, assignments and classes

The course is based on obligatory preparatory texts (weekly chapters), which are also the foundation for the final exam (i.e. everything covered by the texts is potentially relevant to the final exam). The seminar is essentially a platform for discussing your understanding of the texts; we will systematise certain aspects of the texts and focus on selected problem areas, but we will not go through the chapters bit by bit (this is your preparatory task!). The assignments ensure your continuous progress during the course and present you with exercises designed to practise exam-style problems and skills.

An important note: The official workload for this course amounts to a sum total of 150 hours of work (5 ECTS). This includes your weekly attendance (24 hours including the final exam) and the preparation of the final exam. The lion's share of the workload, however, consists of your weekly preparation at home (revision, reading, assignments)! It is reasonable to allow for at least 4 hours each week for this task!

The course management system

The course management system of our department, called WORDWISE (www.wordwise.uni-jena.de), will be the online platform of this class. It is there that you download the weekly texts, follow-up handouts and materials, etc. Important information on the organisation of the course (e.g. announcements etc.) will also be distributed via WORDWISE (to your email address). Therefore, please enrol into this course on WORDWISE (the password was announced in class) and stay updated: Make sure your email address on WORDWISE is valid and that you check it regularly!

Office hours

Please take advantage of the office hours on Tuesdays (3–4 p.m.) if you experience any difficulties.

Course programme

DATE	TOPIC	CENTRAL QUESTIONS
1 14.10.19	Introduction to the course. Goals, organisation and requirements. Introduction to the world of language(s).	What am I going to learn in this course? How does it fit in with the rest of my studies? What am I required to do in this course? Where can I get the materials needed?
2 21.10.19	Introduction to linguistics. The many facets of language and the branches of linguistics.	What does a 'linguist' do, and what kinds of question is s/he interested in? How does a linguist investigate language?
3 28.10.19	Foundations of human language. Signs, 'grammar' and 'rules' in language.	In which way is language a 'sign' system? Why is it useful and natural for a language to have 'grammar'? And what does 'grammar' mean, anyway?
4 04.11.19	Sounds and sound systems. Phonemes.	What kinds of sounds are there in languages? Which contribution do sounds make to language structure?
5 11.11.19	The structure of words. Types of morphemes and their functions. Contextual shapes of morphemes (allomorphy).	What are the smallest meaningful units languages employ? How are words structured, and how and why is the shape of words determined by the contexts in which they occur?
6 18.11.19	Morphological processes: Inflection and derivation. Word-formation processes.	How can new words be added to the vocabulary of a language?
7 25.11.19	Basic concepts in syntax: Constituent structure, syntactic categorisation, syntactic functions.	What are the general principles by which words combine into sentences?
8 02.12.19	Word classes (I): Survey of the open and closed word classes of English.	How does lexical categorisation work in English? What are the distinctive properties of nouns, verbs, adjectives, etc. in English?
9 09.12.19	Word classes (II): Verbs and auxiliaries.	Why are there two classes of verbs? What kinds of grammatical information do verbs and auxiliaries express?
10 16.12.19	Revision session
11 06.01.20	Phrases and phrasal categories. Representing constituent structure.	How do speakers combine words to form sentences? How can we conduct a linguistic analysis of sentence structure?
12 13.01.20	Syntactic functions in the clause.	What kinds of function do constituents perform in sentences?
13 20.01.20	The clause patterns of English. Transitivity and valence.	What are the characteristic syntactic patterns of English?
14 27.01.20	Clause combinations: Formal and functional types of complex sentences.	What devices does the English language have for relating two (or more) events to one another?
31.01.20	Friday! (Time and venue TBA) Optional extra session on clause combining.
15 03.02.20	Review and conclusion.	Bring any open questions, problems etc. to class, and do not hesitate to ask them!
12.02.20	Final exam Wednesday, 12 February 2020, 10-12 a.m., Carl-Zeiss-Str.3, HS 1
16.03.20	Retake exam Monday, 16 March 2020, 10-12 a.m., Carl-Zeiss-Str.3, HS 1
